

Jeremy Hopwood: Principal Consultant, Asia Pacific

With over a decade's experience as a specialist telecoms recruitment consultant, Jeremy has gained in-depth local, regional and international experience on a wide range of contract and permanent projects for telecoms consultancies, telecoms operators, systems integrators, OSS/BSS software vendors and network vendors.

He has successfully completed a number of challenging contract projects including three years as sole supplier to an OSS/BSS replacement project for a telecoms operator. During this time he managed 50 contractors from more than 20 countries and was responsible for in-country compliance.

A top performer within RP International for a number years, Jeremy's commitment to client satisfaction is reflected in his preferred supplier list status with a number of prestigious clients, for whom he has delivered full-service recruitment solutions.
